Now that the Select Committee appointed to consider the Estimates for 1891 has completed its work, it may seem hardly worth while to reopen the question as to the propriety of the action taken by the unofficial members in insisting on the principle of secrecy. They have already repented of their error and decided that the Estimates for extraordinary public works shall be considered in the usual way in open meeting of the Finance Committee, and it is not likely that they will repeat their mistake another year. Since, however, some special merit has been claimed for the work of the Select Committee, and we are told that never before have the Estimates been so thoroughly overhauled, it may not be out of place to examine the constitution of the Committee and what its work really amounted to. To say, as does our contemporary, that never before have the estimates been so thoroughly overhauled, is simply one those rash statements that rest on no foundation whatsoever. It so happens that this year there was a peculiarly difficult question to be dealt with in the increase of official salaries, but in former years, as this year, the items have been taken one by one and considered separately, and, we doubt not, as closely as on the present occasion. The Select-Committee was simply the Finance Committee with the Acting Attorney-General and the Acting Registrar-General turned out. The constitution of the Finance Committee is, however, a matter of much less importance than that [23] publicity should, except under very except done is arge, and contrasts very effectively with tional circumstances, attend its proceedings. These exceptional circumstances are provided for in the instructions under which the Committee sits in public. But what possible advantage could there be in considering the public works and military contribution in private? That the anofficial members themselves recognise now that this was a mistake is shown by the fact that they afterwards asked to have the reference of the public works withdrawn from the Select Committee and re-transferred to the Finance Committee. The CHAIRMAN-Gentlemen, our business his afternoon is to consider item 29. Public Works Extraordinary. The first item is for ho Central Market, on which it is proposed to expend next year $130,000. Hou. T. H. WHITEHEAD-Before going of with the consideration of Public Works hatraordinary, I would mention that I think the Government committed themselves on the 3rd November-to-laying on the table a general statement of the proposed works, showing what is to be done in each case and the necessity for the works together with the estimates and plans. ncluding a definite statement of their intentions with reference to draluage and waterworks so that the Council and the public may know precisely what it is the Council are asked to canotion and for what purposes the money to be voted is to be used; also a fresh repor ublic works to which the colony is allead notually committed. The SURVEYOR GENERAL-I was under the mpression my report gave all the information asked for, and it was printed with the express purpose of meeting the hon, member's views. The CHAIRMAN—The information the hon. member asks for has been already laid on the table, and he will be furnished with a copy.

The Government have redeemed their please.

Has any hon, member any observation to make on the vote proposed? Hon. C. P. CHATER—I should like to know i contracts have been entered into for the building of the Central Market, or whether it is to be done by what the Chinese call measurement work. The SURVEYOR-GENERAL-Contracts have been entered into for the foundations of the Central Market but not for the auperstructure. Most of the iron work required for the superstructure is bring obtained from England. Hong C. P. CHATER—Then after the foundations are laid new contracts for building the market will be entered into ? The SURVEYOR-GENERAL-Yes, as soon as the foundations are complete tenders will be ad vertised for the completion of the building. Hon. C. P. The work is paid for ac-

At all events I have made a good many contracts in the colony at one time and another, and every one has been for a lump sum, and I believe that to be the best way. Then you October last defendant came to him and stated know exactly where you are, whereas by your way the Government do not know and you can never tell what is going to be the cost. buildings on the water side the only thing done in this way with regard to foundations is in

Ho Kar-We vote public money for used "Racecourse" as a general torm for the whole of Happy Valley. Perhaps the Surveyor-General can say whether it is absolutely necessary that the canal should be diverted. The diversion of the canal is to cost $18,000 and the extension of the Racacourse $4,000. The main portion of the estimate appears to be for these two items. With these i-ft-out $20,0-0 would be saved:-The Surveyor-General—I do not think it

As it is, the Jockey Club have to take a great deal of trouble new to prevent debris bring washed on the course. f this canal is not diverted it is no use the other improvements bring carried out. That is my own opinion. I do not know what the Surveyor-General thinks. The Furveyor General—I remember ver well the history of this question, as I had great deal to do with it. It is correct as stated that Mr. MacEwen did propose throw a portion of the Public Gardens the valley, and on looking into the matter it occurred to me that simply throwing one part of the public gardens into the recreation ground and leaving Bowrington Canal in its present condition, and leaving the portion of the public gardens which lies on the west side of the Bowrington Canal outside altogether, would be a very poor scheme, and that it would be much better f it was worth while doing unvthing to make a good job of it and to make the recreati n ground as large as possible. In any case a considerable amount of money must be spent, and I thought t would be much better left alone altorother. or else to spend a few thousand dollars more and make a complete job of it. That is the principle by which I have been guided, and it is for the Council to decide whether it is worth while to spend the money or not Hon. J. J. KESWICK-Having started the discussion on this vote. I may say that I have listened with interest to what the Surveyor-General has stated with regard to the various tems of expenditure, and as it seems the extension of the Racecourse will cost only $4,000 or $5,000 more to carry out I certainly an in favour of the Racecourse being extended if the scheme is to be gone on with. Vote agreed to.

Hon. J. J. KESWICK-Well, sir. I regret that connot agree with the recommendation that this money should be veled. I cannot but regard with very considerable-concern the freedom with which these enormous sums are put down in the estimates, forgetting, as I once before remarked in this Council, that the revennes of this colony are not by any means clastic, and there are no grounds wh tever for supposing our revenue is going to inclease at all. On the contrary, there is every reason to believe. I think, that from time to time there hall be a very great contraction in our bad crops on the mainland, bad trade here, political difficulties, anything of that sort might react on Hongkong in such a manner that our revenue would be nothing like equal to our exgood at a cost of $140,000 is something very The Surveyor General-It has nothing to excessive. The mine of course must still be considered to be in a prospecting stage. Great deposits of gold-may be obtained, or conceivably the results may taper away and become less satisfactory. The miner, as has frequently been said, cannot see beyond the end of his pick. But this at least is obvious the very considerable mining and prospecting operations which are new being carried on at Ranb are for the time being carried out on the results obtained from the operations themselves. The comparative success which has attended tuese operations at Raub has been made a cause of reproach to other persons engaged in mining in Pahang, and not altogether justly. It is quite true that the mining at Raub has been the best mining in Pahang, and it would still have been the best mining in Pahang if no gold, save in the most trivial quantities, had resulted from it. It must also be admitted that the prelimin. ary operations of conveying and erecting the machinery were carried on with an energy and skill, which have not been equalled in similar operations in any other part of the Malay Pen. insula. Nevertheless it remains that one great advantage which the Raub min rs have had over miners in other parts of the Peninsula is that the place where they were to work was so clearly marked out for them by the operations of aucient miners. The stories of rich gold in Raub which were told by Rajah Impey deposits, and others were too lightly and easily accepted, but nevertheless it seems possible they may prove to be true, and they at reason why the Government should not at any tralian miners to a particular spot. I should lose my souses. "I had given up all hope, when one day my friend Mrs. West, of Bournemonth, called and asked what I was taking. I said, 'Oh, I'm tirod of taking things; it's no use; I shall die.' Then she told ma she was once ill much as I was, and was oured by Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. 'Well,' I said, 'I'll try it if you will send for it. She did so, and I seemed to feel better on taking the first dose, and after three days I was able to walk across the room, and by the end of bay on the 27th November. the week I went downstairs. Now I am well as ever. All my nervousness has left me, and I can eat and digest my food without feeling any distress.

"I want to say finally, that I knew about Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and should have tried it years before if certain acquaintances hadn't said, 'Oh, don't take it, for it will do you $125 245 cum new issue no good. They said that because it was [sales advertised, not because they knew for thomse yes issue It was bad advice for me, and cost me years of torture. From what I have said-which is but part of my story—the people may infor what think of this remedy. I thank God that I die resort to it at last before it was too late." (Signed) Mrs. Jane Foster, Darracott Road, Pokesdown, Bournemonth, Hants. March, 1890. .It is only necessary to add that the malady from which Mrs. Fostor suffered was indigestion. dyspepsia, and nervous prostration. Brought on originally by grief and shook at her husband's sudden and violent death, her system did not rally until Mother Seigel's Chrative Syrup removed the terpor of the digestive organs, and thus enriched the blood and fed the nerves. It always has this effect, in like cases. We can only regret that she foolishly prograstinated in the matter of using it. Her statement of facts may be relied upon, as the case has been thoroughly and impartially investigated. | 2582-1
